ABOUT CINCY FOOD TRUCK WEEK

Cincy Food Truck Week is a week-long celebration of all things Street Food in Greater Cincinnati. This tasty celebration was created by Anthony Lange, President and Founder of the Queen City Mobile Food Truck Association. The purpose of this week-long food celebration is to help market and promote the independently owned and operated Street Food Purveyors that add such a unique dynamic to Greater Cincinnati's culinary scene.

The event is designed to connect foodie fans with food trucks by having each participating food truck offer a reduced combo meal to food truck fans.

A list of participating Food Trucks can be found on the www.CincyFoodTruckWeek.com website along with the respective combo meal discounts that each Street Food Purveyor will offer throughout the week.

Cincy Food Truck Week is open to all properly licensed and permitted Street Food Purveyors operating in the Greater Cincinnati and Northern Kentucky region. Food Truck location notifications will be posted daily during Cincy Food Truck Week that will provide foodie fans with location, dates and times where food trucks will be set up and serving their discounted combo meals.
